About the scheme

NHS England and NHS Improvement, in partnership with the Faculty of Medical Leadership and Management (FMLM), are delighted to launch the 2022/23 NHS Regional Clinical Leadership Fellow Scheme.

The scheme was established in 2021 to develop aspiring clinical leaders; creating opportunities to gain first-hand experiences of system leadership, transformation, and service improvement; nurturing skills that will create more effective leaders in a complex, evolving and more integrated NHS of the future.

"As well as being an enriching opportunity for individuals, this scheme offers a unique opportunity for the NHS to recognise the contribution of clinical leaders during the pandemic and beyond."

Jacqueline Davies, Director of Leadership and Lifelong Learning, People Directorate, NHS England, and NHS Improvement

The scheme is managed by FMLM, the UK professional home for medical leadership, which has run the prestigious National Medical Director, Chief Dental Officer and Chief Pharmaceutical Officer's Clinical Fellow Schemes for the past ten years.

"The NHS Regional Clinical Leadership Fellow Scheme has given me the opportunity to reflect, learn, grow, be challenged, and gain insight to so many different parts of the NHS that I didn't know existed. If you are looking for a challenge, to learn about something new, retain your clinical role and be prepared to work outside of your comfort zone, then this scheme is for you."

Sally Rudge, Nurse, NHS Midlands Regional Clinical Leadership Fellow 2021/22

Clinical Leadership Fellows will be based in NHS regional teams across England for 12 months. They will be given opportunities to lead key projects that contribute to regional and national priorities including workforce planning, redesigning clinical pathways, and reset and recovery from COVID. Fellowships are available as less than full time opportunities to allow clinicians to maintain their clinical roles.

The scheme is supported by a comprehensive educational programme, including action learning sets to enhance leadership capabilities, and shared learning to maximise multi-professional working. Clinical Fellows will have opportunities for joined learning with counterpart national schemes in England, Wales, Scotland, and Northern Ireland.

On completing the 12-month scheme, fellows will join the prestigious alumni network, established to bring together a diverse pool of national and regional clinical fellows, that continues to support leadership development as they progress through their careers.

We hope you will consider this exciting opportunity as an important step in your leadership career.

Good luck with your application.

Top tips to preparing your application

Provide clear evidence through examples – Provide evidence of how your leadership skills and behaviour has translated into practice, corroborate statements with clear examples of the impact and outcome of your actions.

Be reflective in your writing – It is important that you are reflective and do not simply provide a description or statement. Reflection is a process in which you consider why you do something in a particular way and includes a rationale for your approach. You may find it useful to consider:

- What are your core values, skills and interests and how are these demonstrated in the example(s)?
- How does the example(s) show your approach, what have you learned and how is it relevant to this role/opportunity?

Focus on YOUR achievements – Whilst team working is essential for effective leaders, focus your examples of what you have achieved. Whilst this might be as part of a team, describe your contribution and the associated impact. This is your opportunity to shine a light on your skills, contribution, and achievements.

Remember this is a leadership scheme – Your clinical competence and achievements are helpful to demonstrate skills and experience, but don't forget that you are applying to a leadership scheme. Reflect on your leadership skills that will demonstrate your leadership competence and potential and how the scheme will make you a better leader and clinician.

Use your word count – A word limit is indicated which should allow you with opportunity to provide a sufficient level of detail. Make full use of this space to evidence how you meet the criteria.

Data protection

- The data we collect is held by the NHS Regional Clinical Fellow Scheme, a joint partnership between the Faculty of Medical Leadership and Management and NHS England and NHS Improvement.
- The information you supply, including, where relevant, sensitive personal data relating to you will only be shared for the purposes of administering the scheme.

Interview stage

Interviews will be held virtually between 26-28 April 2022. Shortlisted candidates will be sent a link to self-select and book interview slots which are available on a first come, first served basis. Interviews will be held virtually for maximum accessibility; therefore, alternative dates are not available.

Interviews will last for approximately 45 minutes, comprised of a scenario-based task and a question and answer-based panel interview. The scenario will be released to candidates in advance of the interview.

Shortlisted candidates will be sent a link and at least 72 hours before the interview and must:

1. Submit photo ID including a passport or driving licence to confirm your identity
2. Complete a tech test to ensure that your camera and microphone work
3. DOCTORS ONLY – Written support from your Training Programme Director, or equivalent, that an application for less than full time training or OOPC will be supported.

Non-UK/EU applicants will be contacted separately with regards to confirming their Visa or permit to work.

After the interview:

- Successful candidates will be sent guidance on next steps and will need to submit a reference within two weeks of accepting the post from their current/most recent employer. Appointment is subject to satisfactory reference submissions.
- Unsuccessful candidates will be sent feedback on their interview within two weeks thereafter.

Appointment conditions

Regional post/preference

- Candidates should apply for posts within NHS regions where they are currently based and employed or where their homes are based.
- Candidates can express an interest in applying for two neighbouring regions, for example London and the South East. Successful applicants will be matched to their 'home' region but 'other preferences' may be taken into consideration should additional posts become available.
- FMLM is unable to facilitate a change between regions once a post has been offered.
- A list of NHS Regions can be found here.

Distance / Virtual working

Distance or home working is likely to continue to varying degrees in 2022 and possibly 2023.

Therefore, we recommend that candidates only apply for regions where it would be feasible for them to travel to regional offices and its constituent organisations regularly throughout the week.

Salary

- Fellows will continue to be paid by their employer.
- The employer will be reimbursed by NHS England and NHS Improvement to a fixed contribution of £25,000, which is equivalent to an average Band 7 role salary for 0.6FTE
- Posts in London attract London weighting contribution as standard.
- It is the responsibility of the candidate to negotiate precise salary arrangements with their employer. For example, where there is a difference between the value of the salary contribution and the candidate's current salary, candidates will be required to discuss this with their employer/line manager directly. The scheme will not take any responsibility for pay arrangements

Contractual arrangements

- All successful applicants will be appointed to the scheme by way of a secondment arrangement from an existing employer/lead employer.
- It is the responsibility of the successful candidate to arrange secondment arrangements between employers and NHSEI. Successful candidates will be issued with full guidance and will be expected to provide HR and finance contact details of employers upon immediate appointment.
- Early discussions with the relevant training supervisors or line manager about less than full time working are encouraged. Failure to do so may impact your ability to take up a post.

DOCTORS ONLY

- Doctors between training programmes/completed foundation training (FY2) without a successive training post must still be employed by an NHS trust, Lead employer or organisation for the purpose of participating in the scheme. Successful candidates are responsible for arranging a contract extension with their current employer to cover their entire secondment period and should discuss this with their Training Programme Director/educational supervisor/local HR contact before making an application.

- The fellowship is available as a less than full time (LTFT) opportunity. Candidates should discuss with Training Programme Directors, or equivalent, about taking time out of training. Candidate should also contact their Deanery for guidance on applying for LTFT roles or Out-of-Programme Experience (OOPE) should that be relevant.
- Applicants invited to interview are required to submit written support from a Training Programme Director, or equivalent, that an application for less than full time training or OOPE will be supported.
- For GP trainees with an expected CCT completion date before 1 September 2022, an appointment to the scheme would extend training at the grade they have reached to ensure completion of the scheme within the shorter training window. This should be discussed with the relevant training supervisor upon application.

Insights from a Clinical Fellow

Zoe Rothery - AHP (Physiotherapist)

NHS South East Regional Clinical Leadership Fellow 2021/22

The Regional Clinical Leadership Fellow Scheme has enabled me to expand my horizons, gaining access to very senior members of the NHSEI team has helped me fully understand the regional and national NHS agenda.

The fellowship has allowed me to engage in and develop a programme of work that is important for patient care, and through this, broaden my understanding of personalised care, equality, diversity, and inclusion issues.

At the same time, I have had space to learn and reflect on my leadership journey by way of the FMLM education programme. I have enjoyed pushing myself, with the support of senior leaders, to see what I really can achieve.

The year is a steep learning curve and is really challenging, but there is support in place to ensure that you can work at a high level without feeling overwhelmed. It feels safe to push yourself and see what happens, and to take as many opportunities as possible in this short year.

Finbarr Canney - Pharmacist

NHS South West Regional Clinical Leadership Fellow 2021/22

The Regional Clinical Leadership Fellow Scheme is a significant career development opportunity and I enjoy the prospect of collaborating with teams across NHSE&I.

to have personal appointments with many senior leaders has been invaluable and inspiring to develop my ability to foster excellent working relationships and gain exposure to wider perspectives.

I have also been connected to the national clinical fellow schemes, learning from different pharmacists in these cohorts has been extremely motivating and exciting. The joined education approach provides a unique experience to network and start conversations with other clinicians who share similar passions. Clinical leadership is a journey, and the scheme has provided tools and skills to take the next step.
